A. & P. CLOSING — After over 50 years in business in Bethel, the Great A. & P. Tea Company is closing its doors this week. The store was first opened in the center section of the then new Naimy Block on Main Street shortly after the building was completed and the first manager was James Hutchins followed by Conrad Lamb and Ralph Burris. Mr. Burris was with the company for more than 20 years. During this time the store was moved next door to the quarters now occupied by Sunri and Rolfe's Apparel Shop. Following a short term under the management of Dick Eastman, Larry Davis, came to Bethel in 1955, and has continued as manager except for a two year period when it was run by Drew Webster. In 1968, Drew and Larry, as manager again, moved the store to its present location on Railroad Street.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The hours the dump will be open to the public will be: Tuesday through Friday, 12:00 noon to 4:00 p. m.; Saturday and Sunday, 10:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. The area will be closed Monday's. These restrictions will be effective as soon as a new attendant is hired. Mr. Brooks, who has been in charge of the site, has submitted his resignation effective Friday, May 23. We expect to replace him the following week.

The recently erected gate will not be locked until the new attendant is present. The public will be notified of changes as soon as we know when they can be implemented.

A sign will be erected at the site informing people of the regulations. These will be no burning, littering or dump picking except by permission of the attendant.

There is apparently confusion with applications for Flood Plain Insurance. We cannot find out what has happened to our application. A new set will be submitted.

How fast the leaves have come out this past week! The oaks are here in the big maples, singing every morning and the brown thrashers add his tunes of a varied nature to the medley. It's delightful to be out early and hear the chorus all around you.

Everyone is getting their gardens in hoping for an early crop to supplement the rising cost of living.

The lawns received their first clipping this week. The dandelions are popping up all over the lawns, also the black flies are out in full force where ever you are. The peepers are making themselves heard every evening. Spring has to be here with all this going on. It makes me think of the song, "Welcome, Sweet Springtime, We greet you with Song."

Cindy Perry

Cindy Perry, a senior at Telstar, is employed at Goodwin's in Rumford as a waitress. Cindy waits on tables, cooks, cleans, takes orders, and operates the cash register. Cindy relates she is learning good public relations and is gaining work experience. Cindy also relates she enjoys working for her employer, Robert Grover, and her boss, i. e., the cook who is on duty.

Cindy feels that she has obtained more out of her working experience because of the Co-Op program and its related course. Learning to get along with the customers has been a learning experience in itself.

After graduation this June, Cindy plans to continue working as a waitress for Goodwin's. When Cindy isn't working or attending school, she enjoys swimming, laying in the sun, and just riding around.

WOODSTOCK C. OF C. MET AT FIREMEN'S HALL MAY 14
The May meeting of the Woodstock Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday, May 14, at the Firemen's Hall, Bryant Pond.

A report on the clean up day was submitted by Sterling Mills and Larry Whitman and it was suggested that a note of thanks should be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roberts for their help. Also it was noted that trash barrels could be used at various points in town.

A day of celebration for some time this summer was discussed and many suggestions received concerning activities. Several members volunteered to help organize the festivities.

Other topics raised for discussion concerned the work done to improve the ball park, the need for bathing facilities and new town offices.

It was reported that free shade trees will be available for private planting and may be ordered from the selectmen. The only stipulation is that they be placed in an area clearly visible from a traveled highway.

Rev. Barbara Huse, Pastor
Bethel Church of the Nazarene
Soon it will be Memorial Day again. This day offers us an occasion to remember many things. There are precious memories. Some are pleasant and happy, others may be sad and unpleasant. We have associated this day with parades, band music, military units in uniform, flags waving, speech-making and placing flowers in honor of our dead. It is unwise to live in the past, yet there is much we can gain in the present and use for the future by profiting from these memories. We recall that there have been thousands in our history who have loved their God and their country enough to lay down their lives for what they really believed to be right. This is not to say, as a nation we are always in the right nor is it to say that war itself is right. From the song, "America the Beautiful" are the words, "O beautiful for heroes, proved in liberating strife, who more than self their country loved, and mercy more than life." So let us not be ashamed to hold our heads up high, stand for what we believe. Yes, "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus." We have a flag to follow, a cause worth living for, a cause worth dying for if need be. Yes, remember where we have been, where we started, where we are today, and where we ought to be! We have a wonderful heritage, loved ones who were proud to live and die for a real purpose in life. "Precious memories, how they linger, how they ever flood my soul." "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." John 15:13.

Letters to the Editor
Dear Editor:
Recently you published a thank you from Grace Lowe expressing her appreciation to all her customers over the past twenty five years.

I think that we who were the customers owe Grace, a warm thank you, too, for the ready smile, and courtesy, with which she invariably greeted us through the years.

Employees like Grace make one return to a store.

Also at this time those of us who have regularly patronized the A & P Store owe an expression of appreciation to all who have served us at that store which we certainly are going to greatly miss. Larry Davis and Drew Webster have often gone beyond the call of duty in accommodating their customers, and their cashiers, Millie Jackson and Carol York's cheerfulness have helped to make one feel our business is appreciated.

Larry and Drew have contributed much of their time for good projects with our young people—Little League etc., and a town cannot afford to lose good citizens who contribute to making a community better.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth M. Carter

To the Editor:
On May 29, the citizens of SAD #44 will be asked to purchase the former Bennett's Garage. This garage, which has been approved by the State Dept. of Education, will be used for Bus Maintenance in one part and for General Maintenance in the other. As of now all bus maintenance has to be done outdoors in rain and sub zero temperatures if the need arises. Any major repairs such as rebuilding motors or transmission work has to wait until school vacation, so the shop area at Telstar can be used. By the time vacation arrives what could very well have been a minor repair, if done at once, could be a cost repair.

The area at Telstar used to house tires, exhaust systems, oil, grease, to list just a few, not to mention the materials and space used for general maintenance jobs such as repairing broken doors, building bookcases and dozens of other things the schools in the district need and want. If vacated and at very little expense, could be used for much needed classrooms thus bringing the remainder of the sixth grade, now at the Newry school, to the same building and not have them separated. The intention, when the school was built, was for this area to be used for classrooms if needed.

Some may think that if the garage isn't purchased it will mean more money toward the school budget. This is not true. It could very well mean less because if the buses are not kept in the best possible repair it will mean purchasing buses more frequently.

This will be our last chance to acquire this building as another customer is awaiting our decision. If purchased, this garage would be paid for by the William Bingham Fund.

SENIOR CITIZENS MEET

The Senior Citizens met at the Sunday River Inn for their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, May 14.

The meeting opened with a silent prayer for Nellie Cummings who left us Easter Day. President Stevens presided. The Lord's Prayer by all was given, and the meeting was called to order.

Ronald Stevens read two letters received from Emily Saunders and Bill Cohen on the returnable bottle issue.

Floribel Haines circulated the guest book. Muriel Faudi was in charge of the mystery package and Ronald Stevens the tickets.

Leona Flint furnished the beautiful anniversary cake. It was the 13th. Eleven members answered the roll call who were present when the Senior Citizens held their first meeting in Bethel in 1962.

A meeting will be held June 12 at the Methodist Church 10 to 2, for a Medic Survey Health process.

The usual county picnic will be held July 19 at Fryeburg Fair Grounds and Buildings. A food booth will be there for those who care to eat. A trip by boat, The River Queen, and one to North Conway is being planned for the summer by Jim Rowe at some future date.

It was voted to donate $25 to the Bethel Emergency Ambulance and Rescue Service, in memory of Edith Howe.

A delicious smorgasbord style noon meal was served by the staff of Sunday River Inn, consisting of hot dishes, salads, and all that went with it. Seventy members and guests were present. The cake was cut and served by Sarah Stevens along with ice cream for dessert.

It was reported that Lillian Young was at the Stephens Memorial Hospital at Norway. Hazel

THANK YOU

Last week, in the Bethel area, approximately 750 residents of the community were screened for high blood pressure through a program offered by the Health Information Forum of the Rumford Community Hospital and Auxiliary. This program owes its success to the cooperation of the area industries; to the help given by Suzanne Bartlett, Jan Stowell, Nellie Frankiewicz, Carol Bentley, Jody Carter, Judy Haskell, Elsie Waldron, Steve Seames, Drew and Larry; to Stan Fox for the use of his barber shop; and especially to all those who participated by having their blood pressures taken.

Thank you very much, Robert A. Girard, P. A. Suzanne Laban

Board of Directors School Administrative District No. 44

On the Job With Emily

Determined to finish in mid-June, the Legislature is now meeting in double sessions, usually in the morning and again in the late afternoon. Many of the committees have finished having hearings, with final deadline for committee reports on May 23.

This past week the Legislature enacted and the Governor signed into law LD1492, the bill designed to revise LD 1994, the school funding law. LD 1452 was drafted by the Education Committee from another piece of legislation produced from the findings of the Education Subsidy Commission. The bill has had five amendments added to it during its debate in the Legislature, but retains the original LD 1994 provision of 50% state funding of the cost of local education and calls for a 13.5 mill rate to raise the funds. The two most important changes are the spending limit for school operations in the second year of the biennium and the financial relief for the 241 communities burdened by the uniform property tax for education. LD 1452 also sets a $25 million annual limit on the amount of school construction the State Board of Education can approve and a $3 million ceiling on expenditures for buses. With the passage of LD 1452 communities can complete their budgets for 1975. Early last week Emily provided pertinent data to school authorities in District 63 towns so that plans might be made for school budget meeting, and in the case of Upton and Gilead, special town meetings.

Another bill of interest to some area residents has received initial passage in the Legislature. The bill would allow food produced by the residents of the producing farm to be included in the $1,000 minimum produce value necessary before a farm can be taxed at the lower farm value rather than the potential land use value rate.

Emily recently received a letter from 10 fellow legislators concerning LD 1020, a bill to clarify the laws concerning registration and operation of snowmobiles. Apparently the Maine Snowmobile Association is opposing this law and the legislators, all snowmobilers, feel that the Association's opposition is based on the raising of "false, irrelevant issues and fears." They state that LD 1020 will tighten up and clarify the road privileges now held by snowmobilers, and change one section of the existing law which may be unconstitutional.

Emily and members of the Public Utilities Committee traveled to Portland last week to hold hearings on various bills relating to the Casco Bay Lines ferry service to islands in Portland area. Island residents seem to be unhappy with the ferry service and thus the committee made special arrangements for the hearing away from Augusta.

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY - EMERGENCY SERVICE

Greenwood City -

- Mrs. Collette Morgan, Correspondent -

Monday morning I heard beyond my window a metallic "tick tick!" I knew immediately what it was, having heard it so many times. Sure enough the rose breasted grosbeak was there in the feeder. Such an admirable bird! Beautiful, tuneful, and useful. As most of the sunflower seeds were gone, I hastened out to add some. And just as if only a day had passed since he saw me last; he flew to a small tree about two yards away then as I turned he came to eat. Before night a second one arrived. They came before the modestly attired females. She came on Friday. I had four pair last summer.

My feeder is far from handsome or even good looking but ALL birds like it. I made it about three years ago. It is 12" by 14" and one inch deep. It is on a pole in front of my west kitchen window. The metal around the pole surely doesn't add to its beauty but does protect it from the red squirrels. It is amusing sometimes, however, to watch them try every trick they know. Only today I saw one try until he was exasperated then leap to the bird bath which was full of water and go in for a seed on the bottom. Most of them were floating but he retrieved the last one before leaving for his nest high up in the old fir tree at the edge of the woods out back.

One morning at 8:30 Ruth came to get me and our other two hikers. We took a woods road which was still wet in places while the ditches were filled with snow. We often take side routes that invite us to their opening, roads whose meanderings are no longer considered vital enough to save.

The river was rather high so when we came to the bridge the water was pouring its shiny flood of foam, down over the rocks to

SIMPLE THINGS

I'm glad that you like simple things—
A blooming rose, a bird that sings;
The fragrant smell of new-mown hay.
The cheery card that came today.
A fluffy cloud in an azure sky,
A rippling brook that wanders by,
A kitten playing with a ball,
A shady seat by a waterfall.
The raindrops on the window-pane,
The whistle of a distant train,
The rising and the setting sun
When evening comes, and day is done,
And nightfall calls us all to rest—
These are the things you like the best.

the pool below. It flowed on past granite, green with lichens.

The air was full of rich smells of moss and mud and lush sunny leaves. The trees were alive with wing flash and flutter. The white crowned sparrow greeted us with its sweet but rather short song of five to seven notes. He sounds much like the white throated sparrow but his song does not end with "Peabody Peabody."

We heard the thundering pinions which seemed to fill the air with a breath taking roar as a partridge sped away into the shadow recesses of the forest.

We gathered a very few mayflowers. They seem best where they grow.

Our next greeting came from a distance to the right as the pileated woodpecker pounded a tree. We left the road to get a glimpse. I did just that. As we moved closer his keen hearing warned him of our approach and he slipped quietly away.

We kept on to the Town Meeting Elm, now dead but still standing. Beyond this we took the one time county road for a ways. In the forest were trunks of great trees fallen years before and riddled into porous skeletons by fungi and insects.

The whisper of a breeze was changing the life of the forest.

We soon turned and retraced our path home seeing many interesting things. The fields and woods are so fascinating that one can never learn all.

Another day I walked with my niece to the cemetery on Patch Mountain. I had just read Edith Labbie's article about a Revolutionary War man that lies there.

She wrote, "This man is said to have been the person who shot Major Pitcairn at the battle of Bunker Hill. The Major was the British officer who led the advance guard from Boston to Concord. He met the Minutemen at Lexington."

We found two monuments of Revolutionary soldiers but still do not know which one it was.

It's a lonely road but beautiful from all views. The world is alive again with a warm and pleasant air. The leaves aren't fully out, but branches are again dressed in soft green. Once again the summer shadows move with swaying bough. Beautiful above but not wholly so under our feet. My blue sneakers became brown with ankle deep mud in spite of our cautious steps.

This section once led through rugged country, opening on a winding view of mountains and a landscape with thriving farms.

I recalled some of my pupils driving their horse and wagon over this same muddy road.

It was a 3 1/2 mile hike through a curve of beauty, whispering woodlands, green forests and solitary hills.

David Holt finished his third year of college and returned home on Saturday.

I attended the meeting at Mexico for Oxford County Retired Teachers on Saturday.

Ann Holt, Bethel, was at the home of her parents here for the week end.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE AT BERLIN, SATURDAY, MAY 24

Everybody can learn to accept only "the true, the good of God," Martin N. Healer, C.S. E., will tell an audience in Berlin, Saturday, May 24.

To find continuing good in our lives," he will explain. "We must be willing to live more spiritually, more close to God, as Spirit. This demands that we express the spiritual qualities of love and true spiritual joy rather than aim for merely material comfort, ease and success."

A Christian Science lecturer and teacher from Houston, Mr. Healer will speak in the Brown School Auditorium, corner of Main and Eighth Streets, at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Berlin on Saturday evening at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Irma Thompson, First Reader, will introduce Mr. Healer. The lecture is open to the public without charge. Local arrangements for the event are being coordinated by Mrs. Evelyn Cross, Lecture Committee Chairman.

Mr. Healer will describe the application of prayer to a variety of everyday experiences in his local lecture.

A native of Dallas, he has a degree in mathematics from Southern Methodist University. He was an executive with a business machine company prior to devoting his full time to the public practice of Christian Science. He became a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship in 1964 and a teacher of Christian Science in 1967.

"Accept only the True" is the title of his lecture.
